

Gas Utilities and the Legislature

Editorial in Texarkana Gazette

In our opinion, we saw a demonstration Tuesday in the Arkansas House of Representatives of the tremendous power and influence exerted by W. R. Stephens and his associates.

The resolution introduced by Representative Hardy Croxton of Benton County calling for the House Public Service Corporation Committee to investigate rate-making policies of the Public Service Commission and the ownership of utility stock by state officials and employees was kicked around to avert a vote on the Croxton resolution and finally referred to the Rules Committee. Representative Carroll Hollensworth of Bradley County claimed the resolution should have gone to that committee claiming that this was required by the national House of Representatives but no statement was ever made as to when, if ever, the Arkansas House of Representatives adopted the rules of the national House. We believe many people doubt very much if the resolution will ever get out of that committee.

We can see no reason why the Arkansas Louisiana Gas Company, or any other public utility, should object to a legislative investigation of their operations, provided they think their operations have been thoroughly proper and legitimate and not against the public interest.

However, Representative Croxton seems to be a sincere, honest and earnest member of the House and we doubt very much if he will be satisfied to let the matter of the resolution stand where it is now.

Probably there is some difference of opinion as to whether it is proper for state officials and employees to own stock in utility companies but it is our opinion that it can well be very much against the interest of the public and can hardly fail to tend to affect their maintaining a neutral and objective interest in matters which come before them.

Very possibly a resolution similar to the Croxton resolution may be introduced in the Senate and, if so, it will be interesting to see what action is taken upon it and what success the efforts to block achieve. Certainly, it is to be expected that if a similar resolution is introduced in the Senate, the same determined effort will be made to have it sidetracked.

Soviet Agents Jailed, Officials May Be Involved

NEW YORK (AP) — The FBI today cracked down on another alleged Russian spy ring, arresting a woman and two men. The agency hinted the roundup may involve others — including "Soviet officials."

Those taken into custody were identified as:

Jack Soble, 53, a native of Lithuania who entered the United States in 1941 and became a naturalized citizen in 1947. He was termed a onetime boss of other Red agents, but was believed trying to flee the country.

Myra Soble, 52, wife of Jack Soble, a native of Russian who came to the United States a few days before her husband and also became a naturalized citizen.

Jacob Albam, 64, Lithuanian-born foreman of a Brooklyn tea and spice company, who entered the country in 1947 on a visitor's visa, married an American woman and has been seeking citizenship.

The three were taken to FBI headquarters here shortly before 8 a. m., the men in handcuffs.

FBI agents carried a quantity of paper boxes, contents of which were not disclosed, and a quantity of material described only as "papers."

Also brought in was a metal box, about a foot square and four inches high.

The arrests were first disclosed in Washington by FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover.

In addition to espionage conspiracy charges, Hoover said, the Sobles and Albam also were charged with conspiring to act as agents of the Soviet government without notification to the secretary of state.

The complaint charged that on or about Aug. 15, 1950, Soble sent letters to other agents of the Soviet Union.

Conviction under the espionage charges against the Sobles and Albam carries a penalty up to 10 years in prison and a fine of $10,000.

The charge of conspiracy to act as Soviet agents without registration carries a top penalty of five years and $10,000 fine.

Methodist to Give Hendrix Banquet Here

Wednesday, February 6, at 6 p. m., the First Methodist Church of Hope, will give a banquet in honor of the Hendrix College in Conway, Hendrix College is a four year school owned and controlled by the Methodist Churches in America.

The Rev. Virgil D. Keeley, pastor of the local church, said there would be several honor guests, including Dr. Matt L. Ellis, president of Hendrix College, Pastors of Methodist Churches in the Hope District, Counsellors, and parents of students in this area that are now in school at Hendrix. Several Hendrix Students will be on the program.

Mr. Keeley indicated that the purpose of the banquet was to acquaint Juniors and Seniors in various High Schools in the Hope District with the school, and with life and actions on the campus. The banquet is an annual affair and is sponsored jointly by the Commission of Education and the Woman's Society of Christian Service, of the local Methodist Church. There will be approximately sixty people in attendance.

Rocky Road Ahead in Big Labor Meet

By NORMAN WALKER

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Talk among AFL-CIO leaders attending winter meetings here pointed today to a rocky road immediately ahead for the year-old merged labor organization.

A squabble loomed among big AFL-CIO unions over whether organized labor should cooperate with a thorough-going investigation of alleged union racketeering shaping up in Congress.

A second point probably conflict is a growing scrap among former AFL and former CIO unions in their age-old jurisdictional battle. AFL-CIO President George Meany is trying to rion this out, by deep-rooted rivalries are smoldering.

A third factor pointing to strife is the approaching deadline next December for merging rival AFL and CIO state and local groups in the big industrial states. Only a score of the least industrialized states have completed mergers.

All three are explosive issues that could lead to possible withdrawal or suspension of some major unions from the AFL-CIO family.

The U. S. Senate is about to trigger off in Washington a probe of alleged union corruption. The Senate Investigations subcommittee headed by Sen. McClellan (D-Ark) already has held a set of preliminary hearings at which several union officials refused to testify.

James B. Carey, president of the International Union of Electrical Workers and an AFL-CIO vice president, said he wants to take up with the AFL-CIO Executive Council next week the refusal of some union officials to testify before congressional committees.

Cotton Farmers Discuss Quotas, Market, Prices

More than 220 Hempstead County cotton producers attended the cotton meeting in Hope yesterday morning.

"The Price and the Future of United Cotton" was presented through a film featuring Dr. M. K. Horne, Jr., Chief Economist of the National Cotton Council. The total market for cotton, both domestic and export, with price comparisons was presented. Special attention was given to price confidence, and promotion as a means of safeguarding markets.

Introducing and commenting on Dr. Horne's remarks through the film presentation was William E. Woodall, Extension Cotton Specialist of the University of Arkansas who urged those in attendance to consider every element of cotton production cost and use every means possible to keep the cost at the lowest level possible.

The Soil Bank Acreage Reserve Program as it applies to cotton was discussed by Cecil Guthrie, ASC Office Manager for the County Committee. Mr. Guthrie advised that $79,510 had been allocated to Hempstead County to pay 1957 cotton acreage payments to producers who desired to participate in the program on the "first come, first served" basis.

Producers may place as much as 30 per cent for 10 acres, which ever is the greater, of their farm allotment in the Acreage Reserve program at an average rate of $46.00 per acre with the rates ranging from $14.00 to $64.00 per acre, depending upon the yield determined by the county committee to be representative of individual farms.

The individual farm acreage payments are to be mailed by the

Panic Llamed for Death of Four in Fire

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Fire flashing through an old four-story loft building an hour before quitting time yesterday brought panic and death. It was panic more than anything else, fire officials said, that killed those who failed to escape the inferno.

The building contained 112 workers.

Five are known dead, 4 are missing and believed dead; and 31 were injured, 9 critically.

The bodies of three women were removed from a fire escape while the blaze raged. A fourth died at a hospital.

Firemen entering the ruins today recovered the body of Joseph Nastro, proprietor of one of the dress factories in the building.

Occupants of the building made frantic efforts to flee the fire.

Women, their hair and clothes blazing, piled from the building onto fire escapes.

One fire escape, supposed to lower to the ground, jammed, trapping the women against the building.

Raymond Washington, 47, who slid down a drain pipe from the third floor, said, "I looked up, and there was this fire escape, jammed."

"I felt awfully helpless. I felt I ought to do something, but I just couldn't do anything. There was nothing I could do." A few minutes later someone knocked out a pin with a hammer and the fire escape came down.

Fireman James Curry, one of the first up the fire escape, said five women jammed up on its fourth-floor landing.

"Their clothing was on fire and they were screaming," he said. "Their legs were caught between the steps of the fire escape and we had to pull them apart. I could hardly pull them apart."

"The flames were everywhere, coming out of doors and windows."

Firemen got three down. The other two burned on the fire escape.

The sprawling, 70-year-old loft building, near the harbor on the East Side, housed six separate shops. Two machine shops occupied the first floor, and the other three floors housed dress shops and a house slipper maker.

Dead were an 18-year-old bride of three months, Mrs. Angelina Di Rienzo; Mrs. Jessie Mongillo, 42, mother of a 15-year-old child; Miss Alma Bradley, 46, and Miss Grace Filman, 42.

Wants Tax for State Teachers

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Most of the money collected through a higher sales tax should go toward raising the salaries of Arkansas classroom teachers, Gov. Orval Faubus said today.

"It is the general opinion of the public, and I think of the Legislature and certainly of myself, that in many instances now schools are top heavy on supervision when it comes to salaries as compared with the salaries of the classroom teacher," Faubus said.

He said "the fact should be emphasized." He said that a quick decision was required so that the General Assembly could pass on budget bills.

Faubus is asking the Legislature to increase the state sales tax from 2 to 3 per cent. The boost will bring in an estimated additional $14,300,000 a year.

Faubus Predicts Sales Tax Will Pass in Senate

LITTLE ROCK (AP) Gov. Orval Faubus today predicted Senate passage for his bills to increase the sales tax and broaden the base of the income tax. He said he had some doubts about the chances of success for his bill to boost severance taxes.

The three money bills will go before the Senate Wednesday. A 23-11 vote of the Senate yesterday set up a special session to consider them.

Faubus pointed out that the sales tax and income tax measures need only 10 votes to pass the Senate. The severance tax measure needs 27 votes because of a constitutional requirement for a three-quarters majority for severance tax increases.

The move to force consideration of the bills next Wednesday passed the Senate by the narrowest of margins. It needed 23 votes to pass and it got 23 votes.

Faubus said the successful vote "could be called an indication of support for most" of his tax bills, but he added: "I don't think every senator completely expressed his attitude on all the bills in the vote yesterday."

Faubus wants to increase the state sales tax from 2 to 3 per cent, broaden the base of the state income tax to bring in more taxpayers, and increase severance taxes, those taxes on Arkansas resources taken out of the state.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A showdown in the Senate on Gov. Orval Faubus' $22-million-dollar tax program is scheduled for next Wednesday.

Sen. Lee Burdett of Lenoirville demonstrated administration strength for the second time in a week when he obtained a 23-11 vote—one more than the two-thirds required to have the 4-bill package made a "special order of business" Wednesday.

The four bills would increase the sales tax from 2 to 3 cents, raise severance taxes, broaden the income tax and direct that the additional money be spent for public schools, welfare, the State Hospital and other state services.

Burdett's successful motion was one of the highlights of a lively Senate session yesterday that lasted almost four hours.

An hour was taken up in debating proposed expenses for charity and circuit judges, although the main provisions in the bill were salary increases for judges.

The bill passed 32-2. The senators also confirmed eight Faubus appointments, apparently without opposition and introduced a proposed constitutional amendment to free the Public Service Commission from control of the Legislature and governor.

Burdett's apparent strategy is to try to get the tax bills through the Senate quickly so as to avoid possible stalling tactics in the House, where tougher opposition is expected. He declared that a quick decision was required so that the General Assembly could pass on budget bills.

His motion was not debatable, but opposing senators managed to get in a few words. Sen. Ellis Pagan of Little Rock got the floor on a point of order to protest—in vain if you care to brave the weather.

Stratojets Collide, 3 Are Rescued

HAVANA (UP) — Two B-47 Stratojet bombers collided in flight south of Cuba last night and three of the six missing crewmen were picked up on a raft today.

The Homestead, Fla., Air Force base reported a second raft was also spotted by search craft but it was not determined immediately if any survivors were aboard it.

Six men were aboard the two planes, three in each, and all were listed "last night" as missing and presumed dead.

Maj. R. W. Bryant, public information officer at the base south of Miami, said the three survivors "seemed to be in good condition" according to reports he received from the coast guard. He said they were being taken to a hospital for routine checkups, but he did not know where.

The survivors were identified as Maj. James McGee McFarland, Jr., 37, son of John McFarland of Watsonville, Pa.; Maj. Winfred E. Lyn, 33, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Elmer Lyn of Paducah, Ky.; and 1st Lt. James Edward Rose, Jr., 28, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Edward Rose of Dallas, Tex.

Brucy Bonett says nuclear colonies are a violation of the law in Arkansas.

Sheriff Carl Campbell of St. Francis County had requested a ruling after being told by Miss Edith G. Church of Chicago, secretary-treasurer of the National Nudist Colony, of the existence of Wildwood Lodge about 10 miles northeast of here.

The sheriff said the colony had a tarpaulin-covered fence around it. Bennett told him a 1947 statute prohibits exposure in a public place, Campbell quoted Miss Church as saying that Pine Bluff, England and Memphis residents were colony members.

The complete program will be announced Monday.

Says U. S. Would Attack Planes of Aggressor

WASHINGTON (INS) Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said today the United States, under the Eisenhower doctrine, would attack Soviet planes that came to the aid of an aggressor nation in the Middle East.

Dulles, statement came in reply to a hypothetical question by Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.), at a Senate hearing on President Eisenhower's proposal to use U. S. armed forces, if necessary, to counter Red aggression in the Middle East.

Morse asked if the U. S. would take action against the Soviet Union if, for example, Syria should attack Iraq and Russia flow in volunteers to aid the aggressor.

The secretary replied that if the Soviet union were flying in forces to aid Syria in such a situation, "then I think under the resolution we would attack the Soviet flights and perhaps the staging areas from which they came."

Morse then asked what would happen if a government, such as Syria, came under Communist control through internal subversion and asked aid from Russia to maintain itself in power.

Dulles answered that the Middle East resolution limits the use of U. S. military forces to cases against armed aggression. He said the response to a demand for overthrow a government which itself does not invoke military force.

Dulles said that neither he nor President Eisenhower have been "shaken" in their support of the proposed Middle East program by democratic criticism.

Dismissals Started at State Hospital

BENTON (AP) — The dismissal or reassignment of a handful of state hospital for Nervous Diseases employees — in accordance with Legislative Council recommendations — has been ordered by the hospital's Board of Control.

Hospital Supt. Granville Jones, who received the order at a meeting here yesterday, declined to identify the affected employees until they can be notified. He said some action already has been taken and some employees have resigned.

A Legislative Council committee which recently investigated conditions at the hospital recommended the firings of seven employees at Little Rock and one at the unit here.

The board yesterday accepted the resignation of Jess L. Cook, assistant director of administration at the Benton unit.

In an open meeting earlier, the board ordered the hospital taken out of the dairy business. It also voted to recommend to the Legislature that the hospital's farm property—about 4,500 acres—be leased or sold.

Truman Switched or Talked Too Fast

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Truman either talked too fast or he switched ground. First he thought President Eisenhower's program for stopping communism in the Middle East was clear. Now he thinks it's vague.

He still supports the general idea, but his turnaround at least served to close some of the gap between him and the man who helped him shape foreign policy when he was in the White House, former Secretary of State Acheson.

On Jan. 5 Eisenhower went before Congress in person to present his program. On Jan. 7 Secretary of State Dulles explained for hours to the House Foreign Affairs Committee what the program meant and why he thought a fast congressional approval was needed.

When Dulles got through, the program was far from clear, and still is. Eisenhower asked authority to use the armed forces to stop Communist aggression in the Middle East and he requested 200 million dollars a year for aid in the area.

Dulles has never explained how the aid would be used. He's never said who'd get it, and he hasn't mentioned one country which asked for it. Eisenhower also wants to send arms to the Middle East. Who'd get them? No clear answer on this, either.

Only yesterday Dulles got so irritated when pressed by a senator for more information that he said: "If Congress is not willing to trust the President to the extent he asks we can't win this battle. If you have to have everything pinned down so everyone, including the Communists, knows in advance what you're going to do, this program will not serve its purpose."

Acheson testified Jan. 10 and opposed the Eisenhower program as "vague, indefinite, and inadequate." It was vague all right. Whether it's inadequate is a matter of opinion.

But, having had time to digest all that was said by Eisenhower, Dulles and Acheson up to Jan. 13, Truman on that day issued a statement backing up Eisenhower's program and calling on Congress to do the same.

Eisenhower's proposals, Truman said, were a "clear-cut policy of action."

Since then Dulles has testified before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. He hasn't added much to what he had already told the House committee. But yesterday Truman issued another statement.

Now he says the administration's case "appears to be shrouded in vagueness." The administration's policy, he said, is "too indefinite and incomplete" that it has "no definite plan of action in the Middle East."

Now Truman and Acheson agree the program is "vague." But whereas Acheson thought it inadequate, Truman still supports it while urging Congress, before approving it, to spell out a bit just what the program is intended to do.

Truman sent his statement to the House Foreign Affairs Committee a few hours before it approved Eisenhower's proposals almost word for word as he offered them.

By this time Truman must be getting used to being ignored by his fellow Democrats.

They turned down his advice at the Democratic convention last summer when he opposed the nomination of Adlai Stevenson. And the committee which yesterday approved Eisenhower's proposal over Truman's objections, was dominated by Democrats.

But Eisenhower's program is over only the first of four hurdles. It still has to be approved by the full house, the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and, finally, the full Senate.

Faubus Predicts

—that it would be an unprecedented move to make four bills a "special order of business."

Sen. Morrell Gathright of Pine Bluff asked if he could submit proposed amendments to Bearden's Revenue and Taxation Committee and was told that he could do so. The proposed changes apparently will be discussed at an open committee meeting here Monday night.

Sen. Roy Riales of Mena, calling for a "point of personal privilege," waived a large stack of cards which he said came from people in his district who wish to meet with him before the bill comes up.

Bearden replied that they would have a chance to do so at the hearing.

Senators who voted against Bearden's motion were Sens. Gathright, Fagan, Riales, Guy Jones of Conway, Gene Lee of Prescott, Sam Levine of Pine Bluff, Roy Milum of Harrison, Marshall Shackelford of El Dorado, Mack West of Paragould and Max Howell and Artie Gregory of Little Rock.

The judges' salary bill would raise Supreme Court justices from $10,000 to $15,000, chancellors and circuit judges from $7,200 to $10,800 and give expense money of either $1,800, $2,400 or $3,000 annually to each chancellor and circuit judge. The expense category would be determined by the population and property assessment in a judge's district.

The squabble started when Levine sought to place the bill on second reading for the purpose of amending it to place chancellors and circuit judges on actual expenses instead of a flat amount. Levine said that it was "subterfuge" to award the judges the extra money and call it expenses.

His motion failed 11-1. Then Gathright, who said he favored the salary increase, said that he would not vote for it because the Senate had not given Levine a chance to amend it. He said that there were "obvious inequities" in the bill.

He declared that the bill had been drawn by the judges themselves and this means that they were setting their own salaries. He said he believed the people did the right thing when they voted last November for an amendment to give the Legislature the authority to set salaries, but he said the Legislature — not the judges — should do it. Gathright, a businessman, said he was glad that he was not a lawyer because he did "not have to fear retaliation."

Sen. Oliver Williams of Sheridan said he did not believe "the people wanted us to run wild" when they voted for the amendment.

U. S. Funds for State Nursery

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A $280,000 federal fund has been allocated to Arkansas to develop a pine seedling nursery which would produce up to 80 million additional seedlings per year, State Forester Fred H. Lang said yesterday.

A state nursery near Bluff City currently produces about 20 million seedlings annually, Lang said. The new appropriation comes from the Soil Bank program.

best be distributed to all school officials.

Sen. Marvin Mellon of Jonesboro introduced a measure to appropriate $2,500 for replacement of the heating and refrigeration equipment at the governor's mansion. The bill states that the work already has been done.

The Senate approved eight appointments in an hour-long executive session. The only new appointee was Sam Harris, former Little Rock newspaperman, who succeeds D. J. Strimon of Benton on the state hospital for Nervous Diseases Board of Control.

Despite the long session in secret, senators said no objections were raised to any appointee.

The other appointments, all made some time ago but after the 1955 Legislature adjourned, were: J. M. Malone of Oonoke to the Public Service Commission; J. H. Smith of Birdseye, Cross County, and Russell J. Owen to the Arkansas State College Board of Trustees; Fred Pickens Jr. of Newport to the University of Arkansas Board of Trustees; Marvin Bird of Earle to the Board of Education; Ovid Switzer of Crossett to the Publicity and Parks Commission; and William Smith of Lake Village to the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission.

Miss Betty Owen

Has Church Wedding
Miss Betty Owen and Ray Pierce Lawrence were united in marriage in a beautiful ceremony Friday evening, January 18, 1937, at 6 o'clock in the First Baptist Church of Hope, Arkansas. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Owen of Hope and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Lawrence of Phenix City, Alabama. The double-ring ceremony was performed by Rev. S. A. Whitlow. Lovely nuptial music was provided by Mrs. H. A. Spraggins, organist, and soloists, Miss Lou Alice Mason of Brinkley and Jerry Kirkpatrick of Little Rock. The candles were lighted by Miss Lillie McKnight of Jacksonville and Harris Lloyd of Marianna.

The bride entered the sanctuary upon the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage. She wore a floor length gown of lace over satin, fashioned with a high neckline, long fitted sleeves which ended in lily points over the hands. The very full skirt was edged with a deep ruffle of tulle. Her finger-tip-length veil was attached to a coronet of seed pearls. The bride carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid.

The couple exchanged vows before an arch entwined with white gladiolas and greenery. It was flanked by two large baskets of white gladiolas, stock and jade.

Don't Blame Us

When You Are Refused Certain Drugs Without a Doctor's Prescription State laws govern sale of drugs. Here is example of what happens when a druggist ignores the law:

Pharmacy Operator Arrested; Trial Today

Orville Halbrook, operator of the Capitol View Pharmacy at 2305 West Markham Street, was arrested yesterday by Little Rock police and charged with three violations of state drug laws.

He was released on $1,000 bond. His hearing is set for 9 a. m. today in Little Rock Municipal Court.

Pulaski Prosecutor Frank Holt filed the charges on information furnished to him by Bill V. McFarland, director of the Division of Food and Drug Control of the State Board of Health. All are misdemeanor charges.

Two accused Halbrook of violating Arkansas Statute 82-956, Section 3, the Barbiturate and Benzodrine law, alleging that on November 15 he sold dextroamphetamine without a prescription and that November 19 he sold phenobarbital without a prescription. The law provides for a fine of $100 to $500 and/or a year in jail.

The third charge accused him of violating Arkansas Statute 82-1113, the Food, Drug and Cosmetic law, alleging that on September 21 he sold 30 capsules containing a quarter grain of phenobarbital without any label or brand.

All the attendants carried identical nosegays of pink carnations. Little Miss Peggy King, of Hope, served as flower girl. Her pink velveteen dress was fashioned like those of the other attendants.

Aubry Worrell of Jacksonville, Ark. was best man. Ushers were, Benjie and Jerry Owen, brothers of the bride, Donnie Lawrence, brother of the groom from Phenix City, Alabama, Bill Blake, Uncle of the bride and John David Whitlow, both of Hope.

Mrs. Owen, mother of the bride, wore a rose lace dress and Mrs. Lawrence, mother of the groom, was attired in a dress of navy faille. They each had white gardenia corsages.

Lawrence, mother of the groom. The bride's table was covered with a cut-work banquet cloth centered with an arrangement of stock and greenery. Mrs. Hollis Luck and Mrs. Marvin Sinyard alternated serving the tiered wedding cake. Mrs. S. A. Whitlow and Mrs. Rachel Edmiston served fruit punch. DOROTHY DIX

Postpone College Till Youngsters Are Older

Dear Dorothy Dix: I have a very, to me, perplexing problem. I am married, have one child. I fully realize my responsibility to home, child and husband, and would always put these first. However, I have a great desire to enter college so I'd be in a position to carry on as breadwinner should the necessity arise.

I was an honor high-school student and would like to become a writer or teacher. Anyone I discuss the problem with says women don't need higher education. My husband, who is a college graduate, shares the viewpoint of the others.

PRISCILLA

Dear Priscilla: Your desire and ambitions are laudable but, as you point out, your family comes first, so far as the time being, formal schooling had better be reared out. Raising a family will keep you occupied for the next few years. However, keep your aims in sight. Read, study, attend discussion groups, take available courses when possible. If writing is your ambition, work at it in your spare moments. If teaching calls you, take on a group of Girl or Boy Scouts or a Sunday School class. Keep in training. Then when your family is established, you'll be fit and ready to work for a degree.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I have proof that my best girl friend's date is married. I understand that he's been trying to coax my friend into an elopement. Have I a right to meddle? If so, should I put it squarely up to the fellow or tell my friend?

Alternate Sales Tax Bill Offered

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A sales tax increase bill that may never be called up was placed in the Arkansas House today as a compromise proposal in case other sales tax increase measures hit a snag.

Rep. Bryan McCallen of Clay County, the author of the measure, said he would bring it up only if other plans throw the House into a "log jam."

McCallen's plan would levy a 3 per cent sales tax during the 1937-38 fiscal year, a 2½ per cent tax for the next six months, and a 2 per cent tax thereafter.

The present state sales tax is 2 per cent. Gov. Orval Faubus is asking the Legislature to increase it to 3 per cent.

McCallen said his sliding scale plan would give schools some immediate relief while the property reassessment program is developing to full effectiveness.

Chevrolet shows you some important differences in low-priced cars just by the look on its face!

Wouldn't you say that most of the '37 cars look good from 50 feet away, but what about from 50 inches away?

What does a close-up of the grille tell you, for example? Is it solidly made like the new Chevrolet grille? Or, in comparison does it look less rich in design—feel less strong and solid? Compare the quality and construction of the bumpers and headlights, the fit of the chrome trim.

The more closely you look all around the car, the more clearly you'll see that Chevrolet has the edge in the way it's put together. You'll find, for instance, that Chevrolet is the only car in its field with a lacquer finish . . . that only Chevrolet Bel Air models give you foam rubber cushions in front and rear seats as standard equipment. These are just a few of the advantages of Body by Fisher. And Chevrolet, you know, is the only low-priced car that has a Fisher Body.

We'll be glad to give you a close-up, comparative look at this new Chevy any time you care to come in. This week, maybe?

Big Seven Cage Play Is Really a Mixed Affair

By ED WILKS
Of The Associated Press

That's a cozy merry-go-round they have going in the Big Seven conference basketball race. Kansas is "unbeatable" except against Iowa State and Missouri can't beat anyone but Iowa State.

It was Iowa State's Cyclones who put an end to that. Will the Silt nonsense by junking Kansas' unbeaten record and No. 1 position in the Associated Press poll last Saturday.

Then Missouri up and bopped the Cyclones, who had scooted away up to No. 3 in the national ranking this week, 69-66 in overtime last night. Upset? Not for Missouri. The Tigers had handed Iowa State (2-2) its only other defeat in conference play 77-59.

The second defeat just about wrecked Iowa's bid for the title, since the Cyclones must face Kansas again (Feb. 2)—at Kansas. Missouri with 2-3 record, is just spool.

The Midlands had another surprise when Wichita defeated Oklahoma A&M 52-48. It was Wichita's second victory over at Stillwater, Okla., first since 1954—and all but crumbled Aggie hopes for the Missouri Valley championship.

Those were the only two stand-out games in yet another night of meager action due to midterm examinations.

John Stephens, Lionel Smith and Bill Ross got the job done for Missouri. Stephens and Smith each added three free throws and Ross added a field goal for all of the Tiger scoring in the overtime after a 61-61 deadlock at the end of regulation time.

Wichita, now 4-1 in the conference behind leading Bradley's 6-0 mark, didn't get the lead for good until the last 5 minutes at Stillwater. Joe Stevens sank a field goal and foul shot to do it. The Aggies, now 1-3 in the conference, blew an eight-point lead in the first half.

Elsewhere on the thin schedule, Marquette defeated North Dakota 72-57 with Mike Moran scoring 25 points; Miami (Fla.) almost immediately wasted a 19-point lead in defeating Kentucky Wesleyan 100-95; and Toledo, of the Mid-America Conference, rapped Delaware 91-70 in a nonleague game.

Machen Rates Favorite to Lick Maxim

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) Joey Maxim, former world's light heavyweight champion will be giving away 10 years and about nine pounds tonight when the esley veteran tries to avoid the knock-out punches of undefeated Eddie Machen, one of the top heavyweight title contenders.

Machen, one of the youngsters who are shoving the old timers aside in the heavyweight division, will be gunning for his 20th straight victory and his 15th knockout. The California Negro is 24 and local oddsmakers figure he is a 4-1 favorite to whip his 34-year-old opponent.

Maxim hopes to take advantage of his vast edge in experience, gained through 17 years in professional and amateur bouts.

"Joey has trained hard for this one," said Jack Kearns, his manager. "He must have boxed 200 rounds and he's trimmed down to 185 pounds. And he has a world of experience back of him. Joey has fooled a lot of people before. I know he'll be able to handle this youngster."

NBC will broadcast and telecast at 9 p. m., CST.

Paramount to Quit News Operation

NEW YORK (AP) Paramount News will discontinue operations Feb. 15.

A spokesman said the newsreel arm of Paramount Pictures was going out of business "in line with the changes in communications methods these days and Paramount's policy to diversify investments."

"While Paramount News is still showing a profit," he said, "the returns, unfortunately are not commensurate with the time, energy and investment in the newsreel."

The newsreel laboratories will continue to be used for film processing by Paramount Pictures.

Paramount News was formed about 30 years ago and had been issuing films to theaters twice a week.

Dangerous Pair Nabbed by FBI

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) Two men listed by the FBI as among "the most dangerous criminals at large" and a teenage girl were seized early today in connection with a $14,000 Baltimore bank robbery.

FBI agents and police, in a mass raid on an apartment at the edge of the downtown district, captured the three without any resistance.

Cal Howard, special FBI agent in charge, said the three are "very dangerous."

They are: Martin Francis Feeney, 41; and Dorothy Frances Rockwood, 18, all of Boston.

Women Golfers Open in Florida

LAKEWORTH, Fla., (AP) Twenty-four of the nation's top women golf professionals launched the inaugural $5,000 Lake Worth Open today.

The 54-hole tournament is being held at the Lake Worth Golf Club, and the 3,654-yard course is one of the shortest the touring pros have ever played.

Faye Crocker, 1935 U. S. Women's Open champion from Montecito, Ariz., gave a sample of what could be expected when she fired a "practice round" of 32-30-60 yesterday. Par is 75-70.

The event is being held in honor of Kathy Cornelius, the Lake Worth mother who captured the 1953 Open. Her husband, Bill, is the pro at the Lake Worth.

Jackson Vows to Clobber Patterson

By MURRAY ROSE
NEW YORK (AP) On the surface everything was sweet and peaceful at the annual dinner of the Boxing Writers Association last night.

Heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson and sports columnist Frank Graham of the New York Journal American received the main awards. Even Julius Helfand, chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission, was content just to hand Patterson the Edward J. Nell plaque as Fighter of the Year without putting the rah on anyone or anything.

But in a far corner of the grand ballroom of the Roosevelt Hotel, a tall, broad-shouldered fellow sat and burned.

"I'll get him the next time. I'll show him. I'll chop him up something awful. You wait and see."

The words came slowly a first, then in a torrent from Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson.

"He was my friend," said Tommy, "but he ain't any more. I'll get him in June. That's my next fight. Him and me for the title."

What was it that was upsetting him?

"I beat him the last time and he knows it," replied the Hurricane. "I made the fight. He didn't do nothing to me. He only fought a couple of seconds each round. So he got the decision and he got to fight Archie Moore and he won the title. It should have been me. But I'll get him. He ain't my friend any more. I ain't been mad at anyone before but now I'm mad."

Patterson won a split decision over Jackson at Madison Square Garden last June 8 to earn the title. The Neil award is named in memory of the former Associated Press boxing writer who was killed in the fifth round Nov. 30 to succeed the retired Rocky

Hope Advances in Tourney by Downing Taylor

David Watkins was the big gun for Hope with 18 points. Larry Bruce sacked 11, Jerry Franks 8, Jimmy May 4, Tommy Polk, Lynn Wiggins and Johnny Graves 2 each and Jimmy Hollis 1. Perry Purdie did not play on account of illness. Travis Cannon looped 13 for Taylor.

In other games played last night, Lake Hamilton whipped Stephens 51 to 47 and Willisville defeated Humphries 56 to 38.

Semi-finals games tonight pair Hope vs. Lake Hamilton at 8:15 p. m. and Emerson vs. Willisville at 7 p. m. The finals will be played Saturday night at 7 p. m.

U. S. Advertiser Plan in Egypt

CAIRO (UP)—The U. S. Embassy advertised President Eisenhower's

howers' Middle East plan in major Egyptian newspapers yesterday.

The paid ads were headed "have you read it?" They offered free copies of Mr. Eisenhower's proposals.

While the newspapers printed the ads, they continued to criticize the plan in their editorial columns.

ASC County Committee to all producers, most probably in the coming week at the latest. Producers who desire to consider taking part in the program may call at the County ASC Office beginning February 4 to consider final details of acreage agreements for their individual farms. The final date of making request is March 1.

A tentative budget plan depicting "How the Soil Bank fits my farm" was presented by Wade Benefield, Associate-County Agent in Farm and Home Development, County Agent Oliver L. Adams, presiding at the meeting, urged farmers to consider the information presented at the meeting and then act as it is necessary to preserve and use every acre of our 1937 cotton allotment of 11,956 acres in producing the greatest possible net income.

While the newspapers printed the ads, they continued to criticize the plan in their editorial columns.

THE BEST CROWD TO FOLLOW IS THE CROWD GOING TO CHURCH

There's No Evil There Except What You Carry With You

KEEP "Tuned-in"

— Have you heard from God today?
Or is there too much static? Maybe you are just not 'tuned-in.' At this moment there are voices and music surging all about you.
Do you hear them? Maybe not, but you could if you had your radio delicately in tune. Prayer is the sensitive instrument man must use to get in tune with God. But it is hard to stay tuned in. Elijah failed here... and so do we.
That is why we need the church. It helps us keep our finger on the dial of faith and obedience to God's will. Go to church Sunday. Carry your walkie-talkie with you every day. Keep it tuned to heaven. Make frequent reports of your victories and failures, and receive your marching orders direct from God!

"Speak, Lord, for Thy Servant heareth."

"IF GOD BE FOR YOU, WHO CAN BE AGAINST YOU...."

These Firms Pledge Their Unqualified Support to Him.
